FIGHTING BACK IN 2008

Sick of the doom & gloom in the housing industry?

CBIA is the statewide voice for your business and local building industry association. We're fighting for your future and homeownership for all Californians.

Framing, shaping and winning debates to protect your business

CBIA is fighting for your business at the State Capitol – delivering you real results:

- CBIA led the way to reduce school fees from $20,000 per home to closer to $6,000 per home – a 300 percent saving.
- CBIA forged SB 800, the historic legislation that reformed construction dispute law to stop frivolous lawsuits.
- When lawmakers wanted to make $20,000 solar panels mandatory on every new home, CBIA led the fight to defeat that onerous provision.

These are just a few of the accomplishments of the California Building Industry Association, which fights for you in Sacramento and along with your local BIA or HBA – and is our industry's voice in the Capitol and at City Hall.

Fed up? There's hope for today's changing market

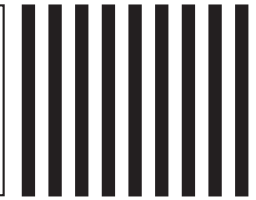

Headlines, market forecasts and government attacks spell disaster for California's homebuilding industry – join the fight to protect your business.

Joining CBIA's and your building industry association's grassroots campaign strengthens the voice of our industry. Working together, we are committed to protecting homeownership and the industry by:

- Fighting back against costly impact fees
- Addressing the State's water crisis
- Defending housing against global warming myths
- Supporting elected officials who support homeownership
- Providing the facts to restore faith in the market.
